FAR EASTERN OLYMPICS

Strong Delegation From China

Shanghai, April 23—With around 150 men and women athletes wearing her colors, China will go into the Tenth Far East Olympic Games opening at Manila May 12 expecting to supply stiffer competition than she has ever offered in these Oriental contests.

Hold Preliminaries
Preliminary contests in many parts of China have been completed. Despite the fact the weather in virtually all parts of this huge country has for months not been conducive to training for track and field events, the Chinese athletes have kept up dogged work. The squad that will go to Manila has now been chosen and all are hard at work for final touches before they sail.

To Arrive May 7
The Chinese contestants will leave Shanghai May 2 aboard the liner President McKinley, due at the scene of the games May 7. Only part of the Chinese squad will board ship here, a number being taken aboard at Hongkong. Sectional contests have been held in the southern provinces, and the best of the lot will be ready and waiting in Hongkong when the Central and North China delegations arrive enroute to Manila.

Wang To Lead
According to present plans, Dr. C. T. Wang, president of the China National Amateur Athletic Federation and onetime minister of foreign affairs of the National government, will lead the Chinese delegation to Manila. During the recent conference in Shanghai of representatives of China, Japan and the Philippines over the Japanese-urged participation of Manchoukuo, Doctor Wang was not able to be present, business demanding his presence in Peking. Following the conference here he indicated he would make every effort to go to Manila with the athletes.

Sung To Come
Should he find himself unable to be present in Manila the Chinese delegation will be minus the encouragement of one of its most enthusiastic supporters.

In addition to Doctor Wang, Dr. William Z. Sung, secretary of the China National Amateur Athletic Federation and one of the outstanding athletic authorities of China will go. Doctor Sung's headquarters are in Shanghai and for weeks he has been hard at work arranging the details of China's participation. He also was a Chinese delegate to the recent ill-starred conference here and fought to the last against Manchoukuo's participation in the tenth games.

Hoh To Attend
Another official to accompany the Chinese delegation is Dr. G. M. Hoh, national physical director of China, attached to the Ministry of Education at Nanking. Doctor Hoh is probably better acquainted with China's athletes than any other person and more competent to judge of their chances in the Manila competitions.

Confident
"It would lift an official in my position to make claims as to what China is going to do at Manila," Dr. Hoh replied in answer to a question as to how the Chinese colors are going to stack up against Japan and the Philippines this year. "I think we shall do better than we ever have before."

For Doctor Hoh, noted for his unassuming manner and disinclination to extravagant claims, that is saying something.

Strength Revealed
Final competitions among the track and field men brought out some new records for China and revealed strength in quarters unexpected. As a result of these unexpectedly good showings here this section of the squad will go into the Manila meet with greater enthusiasm than has been felt in recent years.

The track and field men to compose the China squad will be drawn from all parts of the country, many of them familiar to Philippine and Japanese track and field followers.

On the sports ground found K.K. Chen, short distance runner; S. T. Tung, middle distances; C. C. Liu, short distances; C. L. Ho, middle distances; T. C. Chai, long distances; Y. G. Lin, 10,000 meters; Y. G. Lin, high hurdles; Y. G. Lin, low hurdles; P. C. Chen, weights; P. K. Lang, weights; Y. A. Bang, weights; P. S. Wong, high jump; C. W. Wong, broad jump; T. K. Yang, hop, step and jump; P. L. Foo, pole vault; P. H. Chao, short distances; Y. T. Soong, middle distances; S. S. Chen, 10,000 meter; T. S. Wong, low hurdles; S. S. Liu, weights; S. S. Kwang, hop, step and jump; T. T. Joh, broad jump, and L. K. Chang, weights.

According to the gossip here, among the Chinese supporters Japan is sure to win the track, field and all round events. Baseball, in the opinion of the Chinese, is going to be a struggle between Japan and the Philippines. In basketball China says she will show the other two contestants some of the first points of the game and take the title with ease. Basketball is a game to which the Chinese have taken with a vengeance and it is going to be a fast stepping outfit that turns the Chinese back in this division of the contests.

Strong In Volleyball
In volleyball the Chinese also feel they will be out in front when the medals are passed around. They play this game the year round, indoor and out, and have come to love it. Numerous teams from many parts of the country can put up a stellar brand of game in this sport. Several teams have been combined for Manila. The Chinese officials feel no nervousness in this division.

In soccer the Chinese believe it is a 50-50 proposition as to who will win, and they believe they have as good a chance as any. In swimming China believes Japan will again shove to the front. The Chinese point to the great strides the Japanese have made in this branch of sport in recent years and say there are no other swimmers in this part of the world that can successfully oppose them. China concedes Japan a clean sweep in the swim tanks, unless the Philippines have something unexpected to offer in the way of competition.

Gordon Lum Back
In tennis the Chinese team will be familiar to many onlookers in Manila. Gordon Lum, Khoo Haiyi will bear the brunt of the attack from the opposing racket artists. These Chinese players have performed on many occasions on Far Eastern courts and have showed high the standing of tennis as it is playing in China.

Japanese and Philippine tennis aces will know what to expect when they face these Chinese players. These latter have lost none of their old power and punch and they will again this year at Manila be in to hold and push still higher China's place in Far East tennis circles.

QUEEN CHRISTINA

New Exclusive Serial

CHAPTER VII

Ambassadors and envoys from all the countries of Europe come for audiences with Queen Christina. There is consternation at court when it is learned that King Philip the Fourth of Spain is desirous of marrying her. Prince Charles, whom all Sweden favors and the Chancellor urges her to announce the betrothal. She refuses to do so.

It was, as the queen had known it would be a long and wearing day. The spokesman for Cromwell urged her to sign a treaty with England which had been hanging fire. She demurred because England and Holland had been at war and she would run no risk of involving Sweden in any conflict with the Dutch. The treaty, she assured him, would be attended to immediately when she was assured that the peace treaty between England and Holland had been signed.

The Englishman had still another matter to broach. The Lord Protector was, he said, most anxious to have the matter of the herring fisheries in the North Seas settled. The queen was smiling to herself, but she felt the Englishman had little sense of humor and would notice the rallery in her reply to him.

"This business about the herring has been going on between me and Cromwell for so long. It appears that The Lord Protector wants ten percent of each herring caught in the North Sea. Has he so vast an appetite for herring?"

Seriously, the answer was not that. Your Majesty doubt it. He east more than provide anyone else. But it was a revenue for the mutual protection of our shipping in the North Sea against all invaders."

Monsieur Chanut, the Ambassador from France was less interested in her joyous announcement that his great countryman, Descartes, was coming to Stockholm, than he was in gaining her signature to the treaty with France. He knew Descartes and his works. For he was a man of culture, but his main interest in life was to put the treaty through. The news that the envoy from Spain might arrive any day, made him the more urgent. He admitted that to the queen.

"Do not fear, Your Excellency," she answered. "His arrival can in no way disturb the natural harmony between Sweden and France."

The Rector of the University of Upsala did not share in her enthusiasm concerning the impending visit of Descartes. Nor did he approve of her plan to bring to the university, lecturers from other countries.

"Your Majesty," he said, "Our University, at Upsala is the oldest in Sweden and one of the oldest in Europe. To admit professors from Spain and Italy or any other country, might corrupt the purity of our teaching."

"The danger is not so much of corruption, My Lord, as of stalemate. We need new wine in old bottles."

When he had left, she started toward the window but she did not reach it. She so longed to be out for a canter in the snow, to forget sea walls and stuffy professors and offers of marriage—and herring. But she must see The Lord Chancellor. He wished to submit to her a new draft of an old treaty. He must have her opinion. But that was not all he wanted.

"I crave your indulgence, Your Majesty," he said, "for bringing up again a matter of the utmost importance. I refer to your marriage with Prince Charles."

"The eternal question! I gave you—and him—my answer this morning. You have said of me—with pride, I think—that I am not one to change my mind from day to day. Am I then, one to change it between the morning and the night of one day. Charles and I do not see, eye to eye. We never will—we never can. You know what I think of fighting. I have surely made that plain. Answer me this: do we not exalt the gift to being a great soldier too much?"

"You cannot remake the world, Your Majesty." "Why not?" she shot back at him. "Not I alone, of course. The burden does not fall on one person. The philosophers remake it—the artists remake it—why not we who wield the power? Are we to remain in the beliefs and ideals of dead past? The people follow blindly the generals who lead them to destruction. Will they not follow us if we lead them beyond themselves—to beauty—to grace—to gaiety—to freedom?"

She turned and walked now to the great window and looked out upon the snowy landscape spread before her in all its beauty. He followed her.

"It is for Sweden, I implore you to do this," he said. "It is your duty!"

The queen's eyes flashed as she faced him.

"Why is it my duty? My days and nights are given up to the service of the state. I serve the people with all my thoughts, with all my energies, with all my dreams. Waking and sleeping I am at their service. I do not wish to marry and they can not force me."

Christina turned once more to the window and looked out.

"The snow is like a wide sea, Chancellor. One could go out in it—be lost in it—forget oneself in it."

But Oxenstierna would not let her off. He referred, as he had in the morning, to the fears of the nation that she would make a foreign marriage. There were rumors that she might even marry one that a Protestant. She assured him those fears, those rumors, were groundless.

"You cannot die an old maid, Your Excellency."

Her humor flashed back at that. "I have no intention to," she said. "Some day I may marry. If not—I will die, not an old maid but a bachelor."

She left the room and outside the door stood Magnus, waiting nonchalantly. She gave him a piercing look but he did not lose his ease.

"Of course, Magnus, you heard everything," she said in a hard voice. "It is no wonder, My Lord, that you are always so well informed."

Magnus smiled. "You do me an injustice. I was just about to say that I am rather disappointed you are not going to marry Charles. I had much rather him than another. He spends all his time reviewing troops. That would guarantee us leisure."

"It does not become you, Magnus, to make sport of Charles. He is a patriot and he has risked his life time and again for Sweden. He, at least, is no opportunist."

"You are serious to-day." "It isn't that, Magnus. It is this—I look at you and I look at a stranger, a stranger whom I do not altogether like."

"I grant you your partial dislike if you love me—"

"I do not love you, Magnus. If I ever did—and I am not sure of that—I do no more. Our passion is burned out. I bid you good morning, My Lord."

The queen walked down the corridor. She would find Ebba; they would start away at once for a rest in the country. From a window embrasure, she heard a man's voice. He was talking of her. Involuntarily she stopped and with the first sentence she heard, was as if frozen.

"The Queen is selfish. She doesn't understand love. She thinks only of herself. It is simple for her—she orders and you obey. Is that friendship? How long must we go on this way? Every time we meet you promise to tell her we love each other and that you want to marry me. You resent her domination or you and you do nothing about it."

The woman with the man was the Countess Ebba. She saw the queen over the shoulder of the man who was holding her in his arms. He saw the sudden horror in her eyes, felt the convulsive clutching of her hands on his shoulders. He wheeled around and faced the queen. It was he who spoke first.

"Your Majesty, it is the truth!" "Leave us!" she commanded. He walked slowly down the corridor. The Countess had fallen on her knees and was begging the queen to forgive her. "You do not understand," sobbed the countess. "I understand this—that I never want to see your face again."

crowd, which had gathered in the courtyard.

"What is this?" she demanded. "The people know that Charles is visiting you. They also have heard rumors that the Spanish envoy is nearing Stockholm," the Chancellor answered.

She opened the window. She saw crude images of herself and Charles borne aloft under a legend reading "A Swedish Marriage For A Swedish Queen." She closed the window and as she entered her boudoir, said:

"This is what comes, Chancellor of feeding the people a false hope. Aage was waiting for her. She walked to a wardrobe and took down an old hunting jacket.

"Aage," she said, "Your Majesty?" "We go to ride through the snow-storm." "To hunt Your Majesty," he said, pleased. "At least not to be hunted," answered.

KOMOR'S SPRING
EXHIBITION
Chinese And Japanese
Views

Spring, glorious Springs, as every season, so this year Messrs. Komor and Komor have their Spring Exhibition of Water-colours by Japan's foremost master. A novelty are the Chinese views by Manchuria and Nanking, which are fascinating and beautiful in their soft and pleasing colours.
As usual the Pictures are of a very high standard and the work of artists like Terauchi, Kano, Kobayashi and Kyoha is again represented. No. 5, Japanese Alps, by Terauchi is perhaps the best this famous artist shows in this Exhibition. His masterful use of colours, light and shade and technique in every one of his works can be realised when you admire some of his pictures shown. No.
50 Peiping China priced at $42. is a delightful view of Peiping and one wonders how realistic this great artist paints.
There is also a wonderful view of Kiyomizu Kyoto (No.89) by Kano: the pictures of Kobayashi are always appreciated and when one looks at (No.83) Snow of Miya or his Nikko (No.86), one visualizes the beautiful country which inspired the artist. The Exhibition is open for one week only and it is well worth a visit. A fine pictures can be purchased from $2.50 upwards, despite its being a hand painting signed by the artist; there are also larger examples costing from $16.—upwards.
The Exhibition is open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and everyone is welcome to view same at Komor's Art Rooms, Chater Road. There is no entrance fee and no obligation to purchase.

TALLULAH
BANKHEAD
Yearned For London

London, April 10.
Tallulah Bankhead and Edna Best arrived here from New York
by the Bremen to-day.
Miss Edna Best gave an absolute denial of Transatlantic rumours of a breach between her husband,
Mr. Herbert Marshall, and herself.
Miss Bankhead comes here after three years in America without any plans. She was "yearning" for London, she explained.
Although they spent five days on the liner they saw nothing of each other until the moment of disembarkation, when they came face to face and greeted each other warmly with, "Oh, darling. How good it is to see you again." After the introduction they were photographed together and spent a long time discussing Miss Best's baby, Sarah.
Miss Bankhead has just had five months in hospital. She is the same Tallulah. The same husky voice. The same dark eyes and the same pallid complexion.
To-day she seemed to have gone slightly Garbo. She wore a half-length, swagger coat, grey tweed costume, and what she called "a ridiculous old felt hat," which was reminiscent of Queen Christina's headgear.
Her hair now grown comparatively long, falls in curls on her shoulders.
She was frankly excited at the prospect of seeing London again, and reeled off a list of shows she was keen to see.
She still says "Oh, Darling" in the real Tallulah fashion.

"THE BLUE ANGEL"

Jannings and Dietrich
Together

Joseph Von Sternberg, who is rated as one of the greatest directors of moving pictures of all time, deserves the credit for bringing to light one of the most colourful personalities, American film audiences have seen in many a long day.

When Von Sternberg was permitted by Paramount to go to Germany to direct Emil Jannings' first talkie there for U.F.A., he was at a loss for a leading woman to play opposite the great German character actor in "The Blue Angel", now showing at the Alhambra. But one evening he saw a musical show in Berlin in which Mariene Dietrich was playing. That settled the problem. Miss Dietrich was the answer.

Her work in this extraordinary German film was so impressive that Paramount officials travelling in Germany at the time, signed her to a contract to make talkies in Hollywood. As a result she became the feminine lead as the mysterious cabaret singer in Gary Cooper's "Morocco".

Meanwhile the English version of "The Blue Angel" became such an astonishing success in England, that Paramount contracted for the distribution rights of it in America.

"Morocco" was directed by Von Sternberg, who thus has the honour of being the director of Miss Dietrich's first two English-speaking talkies.

In "The Blue Angel" she is seen as the ravishingly beautiful cabaret performer whom Jannings falls in love with and marries. That their wedded life becomes a series of devastating events for Jannings as the prime and proper professor, is no fault of the gorgeous Mariene's. As the plot shows, there are variant philosophies of life. It is the fate of the girl to be in the ascendant. It is the hapless man to fall into a degradation whose parallel in sheer drama has never been on the screen.

"ALICE IN WONDERLAND"

Real Identity Of The Author

Few people know of the wide scope of Lewis Carroll's accomplishments, even the most enthusiastic "Alice in Wonderland" fans. Norman McLeod, motion picture director who made Paramount's film version of the famous story, has pointed out. The picture is now playing at the King's Theatre featuring a cast of forty well-known players.

"Everyone who has read 'Alice,' and it has been translated into sixteen languages, knows it was written by Carroll, but not more than half of them know that Carroll was the pen name of Charles Lutwidge Dodgson," explained McLeod, who read almost every available biography of Carroll in his preparation for the picture.

"Dodgson never would publicly admit authorship of the 'Alice' book," McLeod pointed out. "He hid that part of his personality behind the stern pose of an Oxford don. When people would ask him to send them some more of his books, he would respond with times on mathematics or vivisection."

Dodgson was primarily a lecturer in Mathematics at Oxford and the author of many textbooks on the higher branches of the science of numbers.

He also was an artist and a remarkably efficient amateur photographer. He published several books of poems, and invented an "infallible" system for betting on horse races. Dodgson was an ordained deacon and frequently delivered sermons. He was an enthusiastic student of medicine and surgery, and wrote a pamphlet, "Popular Fallacies on Vivisection."

Carroll, to call him by his best-known name, also invented puzzles and games for children among the latter were "Syllables," which is the forerunner of the modern cross-word puzzle, the Game of Logic and the Alphabet Cipher. He also devised a memory course largely for his own use called "Memoria Technica."

The picture brings to life all the famous, unusual people who lived in "Looking Glass Land." The story is almost an exact duplicate of both "Looking Glass" and "Wonderland." Alice, on the

"GIRLS WITHOUT A ROOM"

Ruggles Steals The Picture

A charming and notable picture is Charles R. Rogers' "Girl without a Room" which comes to the Queen's Theatre, on Wednesday.

It is a gay Parisian romance with music-but it isn't to be classed as a musical comedy because there is no chorus. The music is woven directly into the story.

We have madcap art and models in a sincere human story wrapped in comedy. We have the heart-beat in many a feminine fan's breast, forsaking romance at times to show us what a capable comedian he is.

screen, "lives the actual experiences of Alice in the book. More than forty famous Hollywood stars are featured in the "cast of the century."

Farrell enacts an American artist who goes to Paris to study and adopts one of the "nut" schools of art—one in which the artist paints what he feels and not what he sees. Charles enters a goofy painting in a contest and wins—but the painting is upside down! Bedlam, notoriety, mockery are his. But he discovers that it is a way to wealth and fame.

Charlie Ruggles was never funnier than in his portrayal as Farrell's pal Ruggles is continually in jams of one sort or another. He runs away with comedy honours especially, in as crazy a duel as ever was staged in which he is "shot" by a Russian and thereafter has to play dead every time the Russian approaches.

"Girl Without a Room" is not able as it brings Marguerite Churchill back to the screen after an absence of a year and a half. It brings a new Marguerite. We remember her as a player of too-sweet ingenue roles. Now she is the sophisticated woman of the world—the unconventional model who never knows where she will sleep. And the clothes she wears in most of the scenes wouldn't keep a snail warm on a frosty night. Her figure is worth seeing.

"Girl without a Room" marks the debut of Walter Woolf, the Broadway musical comedy star. He seems to be the perfect matinee idol type for the modern girl, strong, masterful male.

Gregory Ratoff adds his humour to the fast-moving frolic and Director Ralph Murphy deserves credit for keeping his story running at a fast pace.

There are three songs in the picture. "The Whistle Has a Blow" is a highly humorous number sung by Charlie Ruggles and the studio revelers. Miss Churchill and Sam Ash render "The Roof-top Serenade" and Walter Woolf sings "You Alone," both of which seem destined for great popularity.

"SHOULD LADIES BEHAVE"

Lionel Barrymore At The Queen's

A light comedy based on a story with a somewhat difficult theme is the current attraction at the Queen's, entitled "Should Ladies Behave." It is the story of the love of three women for the same man. The unusual feature of this love, however, is that of the three women, two happen to be mother and daughter, while the third is a sister of the mother.

A girl of nineteen, following a "biff" with her lover, breaks off with him and falls for a man of the world of 42. She declares her intention of marrying him, despite the warning of her mother and father.

With youth on her side, she feels that she could go through with such a marriage and had even got so far as eloping with him, when a change comes over the scene. An incident in the story occurs just as the lovers are trying to leave the house in the dark of night, and in that one incident, the girl discovers her true feelings for the somewhat aged lover.

Lionel Barrymore as the father of the heroine entertains us with some very blunt observations in this picture, but it is left to Alice Brady, as the girl's mother, to bring out some very witty remarks. Conway Tearle has the role of the middle-aged lover while Katherine Alexander cuts a pretty picture as the young inexperienced girl.

"UP TO THE NECK"

Ralph Lynn Scores
Again

"The most original and diverting story ever written for Ralph Lynn" such was a famous London critic's description of "Up To The Neck" the B. and D. star's latest comedy, which is to be presented at the King's Theatre on Wednesday.

"Up to the Neck" is written by Ben Travers, and this in itself is complete enough evidence of the entertainment possibilities involved, because there is no other author who understands Ralph Lynn's type of comedy so fully as Ben Travers. By all accounts he had surpassed himself on this occasion.

The story introduces Ralph Lynn as N. B. Good, a would-be actor, who acts as well as his name suggest. His rival at a dramatic academy remains his rival through life, always succeeding where he fails.

When N. B. Good, is a bank clerk Eric Warwick, the rival has become a successful West End actor. They meet at a local charity dramatic show with disastrous results.

It is not until Ralph Lynn comes into a large sum of money that he is enabled, by various accidents, to fulfil his life's ambition to play a leading part.

And how he plays it! This is without doubt one of the funniest sequences ever written for Ralph Lynn. The cast who appear in support of Lynn are well worthy of the standard he sets.

Eric Warwick is played by Francis Lister, who is well competent to the part with all the necessary unscrupulousness, while at the same time conveying the impression of the "arrived" actor.

Opposite Ralph Lynn is Winifred Shotter the heroine of so many Ralph Lynn subjects, this time in a characterisation which is different. She is as April Dawne, née Mary Jones, a tough chorus girl who is not tough under the surface.

LESSON SERMON

First Church of Christ, Scientist

"Probation After Death" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which was read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 29.

The Golden Text was: "I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die" (John 11: 25, 26).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. Yes, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me." (Psalms 23: 1, 4).

"For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens" (II Cor 5: 1).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "In the place where the tree falleth, there it shall be." So we read in Ecclesiastes. This text has been transformed in to the popular proverb, "As the tree falls, so it must lie." As man falleth asleep, so shall he awake. As death findeth mortal man, so shall he be after death, until probation and growth shall affect the needed change (p. 291).

WATCHMAN DISCHARGED

Charged at the instance of Mr. H. J. Millington, head bailiff of the Supreme Court for the theft of clothing, Kwok Tai, a watchman at the Supreme Court, was discharged by Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at Central Magistracy on Saturday after a strong plea by his solicitor, Mr. F. X. D'Almada.

The defendant was alleged to have stolen 19 pieces of clothing from the complainant, but Mr. D'Almada pleaded that his client took the articles in the belief that they were discarded samples. The defendant had been in the service of the Supreme Court for about 22 or 23 years, he added.

DEMANDING MONEY WITH MENACES

Before Mr. Hamilton on Saturday, Lo Kau, Wong Wah Kan and Ip So, all unemployed, were charged with demanding money with menaces and by force, and with common assault on Chan Ho, a hawk.

The first defendant, Lo Kau, was sentenced to seven months' hard labour, while the other two received sentence of three months each.

ADULTERATED MILK

On a summons for selling milk containing 15 per cent. of water, Malik Chand, proprietor of the Indian Store, 46 Queen's Road East, was fined $15 by Mr. W. M. Thomson at Central Magistracy on Saturday. Mr. M. A. da Silva, appearing for the defendant, pleaded guilty to a technical offence.

MIDNIGHT SWIMMING

"I am not going to send these youngsters to prison this time," said Mr. Hamilton at Central Magistracy on Saturday when Marcel Johnny, 17; Mak Wai Lam, 18; Rodney James Rew, 17; Francis X. Martin, 19; and Peter Maxwell, 20, were charged with swimming off Fenwick Street wharf, opposite the Seamen's Institute shortly after midnight, and with having prevented residents in the Institute from sleeping by creating "a fearful noise."

The defendants were arrested by Sergeant Blackburn as a result of complaints by the residents in the Institute.

Martin failed to appear in Court when his name was called, and his bail of $10 "was therefore estimated. The other defendants were bound over.

ILLEGAL POSSESSION OF ARMS

Arrested at the Yau-mat Ferry Wharf in possession of an automatic pistol and many rounds of ammunition without an appropriate licence, a Chinese from Shanghai named Shiu Tin Yuen, appeared before Mr. Wynne-Jones last Saturday morning. The defendant admitted the charge.

It was stated that the defendant was arrested through information received and the arms were hidden in a paper shoe-box.

A sentence of six months' hard labour was passed on the defendant, and an order for the confiscation of the arms was also made.

OPIMUM DIVAN RAIDED

A Chinese named Tang Hing appeared before Mr. Hamilton at the Central Police Court on Saturday morning charged with keeping an opium divan and unlawful possession of prepared opium.

Shiu Muk, a Chinese detective, told his Worship that the defendant was the principal tenant of No. 5, Wah Lane, 1st floor, Queen's Road Central, and during the raid, several opium-smokers were found in the premises.

The defendant pleaded guilty and was fined $300 or two months' hard labour in default. The smokers were discharged with a caution.

Philippine Independence Mission

FULL INDEPENDENCE PROMISED IN TEN YEARS

"We shall have full independence in 10 years," and in the meantime we are granted a full Dominion Status, said the Hon. Mr. Manuel L. Quezon, President of the Senate of the Philippine Islands and leader of the Philippine Islands Independence Mission to Washington in an interview on board the R.M.S. Empress of Canada on Saturday.

Mr. Quezon led the Mission to America to protest against the modified form of independence granted to the Philippine Islands under the Hawes-Cutting Bill, and in spite of the opinion in Manila that nothing could be done to improve the conditions of this Bill, he has secured the passing of the McDuffy-Tyding Law which provides for full independence after a period of 10 years.

"We shall have full independence in 10 years," said Mr. Quezon, "and in the meantime we are granted a full Dominion status. The Dominion status provides for the establishment of a Commonwealth Government within the next 10 months. The officials and members of the government are all to be Filipinos, including the Chief Executive, and the United States are to be represented by a High Commissioner," he said.

"It is not yet known who will be the American High Commissioner, but we all hope it will be the present Governor-General, the Hon. Mr. Frank Murphy."

No Navy

Questioned about the American Military establishment Mr. Quezon said that for the next 10 years the present military arrangements will stand, but on the declaration of independence the American army will be withdrawn en bloc. The Philippines intend to establish their own army, and to run it on similar lines to those of the present American establishment.

"As far as present arrangements have been made," said Mr. Quezon, "we do not intend to establish our own navy, but, of course, we shall have a few small vessels, though they will not be in the class of the navies of other powers." "My own opinion is that if you cannot have a strong navy, it is better to have no navy at all," he said.

"The constitution of the new Philippine Islands Republic will be based on that of the United States," he said, "and as far as we know at present we shall take steps to establish an immigration quota.

Philippine Fears Dispelled

The Hon. Mr. M. L. Quezon is accompanied by Senator Elpidio Quirino, Majority Floor Leader in the Senate of the Philippine Islands, who is second in command of the Mission and who said that the Mission to America had been entirely successful.

When he had left the Islands the people expressed the fear that the Mission would be unable to accomplish anything on account of apathy in Washington.

"They even went as far as to say that if we rejected the Hawes-Cutting Bill, the doors of Congress would be closed on us for 30 years or more."

Fortunately the Mission received a sympathetic hearing from President Roosevelt who was determined to do something for the Islands during his administration. President Roosevelt did not take long to realise that the Islands' objections to the former bill were tenable, and on his recommendation, legislation was passed by Congress granting the Islands independence at the end of 10 years, which period may however, be shortened.

Independence will be granted automatically at the end of the period which was not the case in the Hawes-Cutting Bill, that bill containing many conditions which were unsatisfactory to the Filipinos.

Commonwealth Government

"The new conditions are to be fulfilled by the establishment of the Commonwealth Government, and by the ultimate declaration of independence," concluded Mr. Quirino.

The Mission left the Philippine on November 4, 1933, and spent five months in the United States. The members of the Mission are Mr. Quezon and Mr. Quirino, from Manila, and Mr. Galabon and Mr. Guevarra who are stationed in Washington.

The Mission were met yesterday by Senator Montilla and Mr. Ramon Fernandez, a former senator, and several other members of the Philippine Senate, and Filipino business men.

The Mission left Hong Kong on Saturday night, continuing their trip home by the Empress of Canada.

IMPERIAL CHEMICAL INDUSTRIES

Home Trade Better

In the report for 1933 the directors of Imperial Chemical Industries, Limited, write that the total volume of the company's home trade was substantially larger than in 1932, and that an encouraging feature was the increased demand from practically all the industries consuming the company's products.

"There is no doubt," they proceed, "that, in the difficult conditions of the depression, the Import Duties Act has brought many advantages to British industry, in which the company has participated, both directly and indirectly." They state that sales of alkali products in the home trade showed an improvement even over the satisfactory figures for the previous year, but that in overseas markets sales were adversely affected by increased competition in China and Japan and by the disturbed conditions and low purchasing power in China.

The improvement in the sales of dyestuffs, both in the home and in the export markets, continued last year, and sales of other products of this group expanded substantially in the home market and were well maintained in the export markets. Reference is made in our City Notes to the comments of the director on the work of the selling companies established abroad and also to the feature of the balance-sheet: The revenue statement was analysed in The Times on March 21.

SATURDAY'S SCOUT RALLY

Malay Scout With Pilot's "A" Flying Licence

Over two hundred and thirty Scouts comprising 11 Troops took part in the Scouting competition for the Prince of Wales Banner, which took place at Sandland's Hut on Saturday, before a record attendance.

A number of contests comprising Scout race test, ambulance work, weight judging and knot tying were refereed by Mr. Hertslett, Assistant Commissioner for Malaya, D. S. S. Brent, D. S. S. Vauter, D. S. S. Barter, Mrs. Poxon, wife of A. S. M. Poxon of the 1st Hong Kong Sea Scouts and the Rev. G. T. Waldegrave, Commissioner for Hong Kong.

After an enjoyable tea the principal contest began which included touching, smelling and hearing tests, and a difficult climb. Sixteen scouts from each troop were divided into four parties for this contest.

In his speech at the conclusion of the rally the Rev. G. T. Waldegrave, thanked everyone for turning out to the rally, which he explained was his last, as he was leaving for Home in August.

He then mentioned that the Rev. Halward was to be lent to Canton for three nights a week for the next six months in order to teach the Canton Scout Masters the right way to carry on the Scouting movement in Canton. He also said that on his retirement the Rev. Halward would become the Commissioner for Hong Kong.

An interested spectator was S. P. L. Jim Hertslett, a Malay Scout from Feral, who was the first Asiatic to gain an "A" pilot's licence for flying and one of the first six of the Royal Singapore Flying Club.

Jim Hertslett has been described as one of the finest of Malaya's Scouts, which is a strong statement, as there are well over 6,000 scouts in the country.

the craft striking its propellers on the ground and necessitating the rushing of new propellers from America before further flight could be made.

The incident occurred during a demonstration before Chiang Kai-shek and other national government chiefs, who are the principals in determining national government aircraft purchases.

JAPAN'S PROTEST IGNORED

Airplane Dealers Continue Sale

Shanghai, April 22.
Japan's opposition to China's purchase of foreign military aircraft notwithstanding, foreign airplane dealers in China have in no wise lessened their efforts to maintain the flow of war birds to China.

One phase of the efforts of these foreign agents, particularly the Americans and the Italians, has taken the form of spectacular displays over downtown Shanghai while noon-time crowds pack the streets, the airplane dealers hoping by the exhibitions to impress the public with the prowess of their respective machines.

Major Doolittle, who in recent months demonstrated in China a high-powered combat plane, began the practice, or using the sky over Shanghai as a demonstration ground, when he started Chinese and foreigners alike with daring exploits barely above the city's rooftops. Doolittle sold dozens of that type of plane.

Bernardi the Italian air ace now in China was daring in flying over Shanghai when as the noonday crowds poured out, the flyer in a brilliant red craft looped, rolled and twisted barely above the buildings.

The Italians are offering American aircraft dealers in China the stiffest competition and to-day's stunt started the Chinese talking of the capabilities of the Italian machine.

Frank Hawks, who is demonstrating an American bomber, also participated in the Shanghai demonstrations, carrying dozens of air-minded Chinese in his huge craft.

Hawks is temporarily eclipsed as a result of seeming absentmindedness in Nanchang, when on attempting to land the bomber he failed to lower the undercarriage. (Continued on Previous Col.)

RECEPTION AT CLUB RECREIO

Apostolic Delegate Honoured

There was a large gathering of members of the local Catholic Community at the Club de Recreio yesterday morning when a reception was held in honour of the new Apostolic Delegate to China, Mr. Zanin.

The heads of the different Catholic Missions were present as well as representatives from other Catholic schools and institutions.

Upon the arrival of Mr. Zanin, the band of St. Louis Industrial School struck up the Papal Anthem, in which the assembly joined.

The reception committee consisted of Messrs. F. H. Barnes, J. M. Graca, C. E. Marques, J. M. R. Xavier, J. Jordan and C. Chan.

Before calling upon the gathering to drink to the health and success of Mr. Zanin, Mr. F. H. Barnes said:

Soon after the foundation of this Colony in 1841, the first Prefect Apostolic, Father Theodore Jesu, was appointed, and from that year to 1887, the administration of the Mission was under a Prefect Apostolic. In 1874, Mr. Tomlinson Raimondi was appointed first Vicar Apostolic.

The great majority of Hong Kong Catholics in the early days of the Colony were Portuguese from Macao and in coming here in search of a living, they brought with them the faith of their forefathers.

Under the guidance of Bishop Raimondi, the nucleus of Catholic action, so fondly cherished by our Holy Father, Pope Pius XI, was established at the old Cathedral in Wellington Street, where there were housed the Catholic Circle, the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, the Confraternity of the Most Blessed Sacrament, the Apostolism of Prayer and a Catholic Debating Society.

With the passing of time our Cathedral was removed to its present site and under the able guidance of Bishop Raimondi's successor, the late Mr. Piazzoli, Catholic associations continued to show increased activity. On the death of Bishop Piazzoli, the administration of this Vicariate was taken over by the late prelate Mr. Dominic Pozzoni. The years that he had spent as a young priest in the labours of the mission field singularly fitted him to be a pastor for the high office to which he was then called by our Holy Father the Pope.

Aided by a body of zealous Catholics, his administration was marked with success in all branches of the mission's work. He was truly loved by all and the Catholics of this Colony still mourn his untimely death which occurred on February 20, 1924.

It was with extreme joy that we received the news of the appointment of another zealous worker in the person of our Vicar Apostolic, Bishop Valoria, who was consecrated on June 15, 1925.

Our constant prayer is that success will follow your excellency in your Apostolic labours in China and in anything you may undertake. In extending you the welcome of this Colony, we pray that you will transmit to our Holy Father, the most faithful homage of the Catholics of Hong Kong, his obedient and humble children in Jesus Christ.

Mr. Zanin's Reply

Replying, Mr. Zanin speaking in Italian (which was interpreted to the audience by Fr. De Angelis) said that he was very deeply impressed by the vast gathering present. It was a glorious attestation of the unity and Catholicity of the Church. He reminded the gathering of the fortitude and the strength of the early Catholics in China.

He had robbed him of most of his notes.

The big event of the season was undoubtedly the visit of the Australian Universities fifteen, and I had a chat with their captain in Manila after their tour of Japan, and he expressed keen satisfaction that they had played two games against Hong Kong on their tour. It had done much to give them a flip when they came up against the Japanese, and the Australian Captain voiced the opinion that they would almost certainly play against Hong Kong again next year. If they should again tour the East, which was very probable.

Referring to local rugby, Lt. Forbes said the Triangular Tournament had been enjoyed by everybody and he hoped that when again the Navy competed for it they might again retain it (applause).

Sir Henry Pollock then called upon the two captains of Soccer (Syd Strange) and of rugby (Dr. Selby) to receive their captain's badges.

"In Conclusion"

In conclusion, Mr. H. R. (Rusty) Forsyth, popular vice-President of the Club, made reference to the pending departure from the Colony of Sir Henry and Lady Pollock and said he was sure he was voicing the sentiments of those

MODERN MANNERS

Many people assert either that modern manners are bad, or that they do not exist. It is therefore refreshing to find an Italian noblewoman, the Duchess of Sermoneta, maintaining that the manners of to-day are actually better than those of previous ages, even if she does not entirely prove her case. In support of her statement she quotes several incidents similar to the occasion when Sarah, Duchess of Marlborough, flew into an abusive rage on being commanded by Queen Anne to look for her gloves. The opinion of the Duchess is probably not the less reliable because incidents like this do not altogether prove her contention. The manners of an age depend less upon the behaviour of people of title in their relations with crowned heads than upon what ordinary men and women do on ordinary occasions, in the street, on the bus, and in the home.

Judged by this wider test, however, contemporary manners have no reason to be ashamed. That the behaviour of average people to-day has not upon it the fine bloom of ceremonious courtesy which is to be encountered in romances of medieval chivalry is true and natural enough; but at no period of time has there been more real kindness manifested in personal relations than there is nowadays.

This is, perhaps, at the moment, being brought home to many people who, in view of the celebrations which are being prepared for the hundredth anniversary of Charles Lamb at Christmas of this year, are refreshing their memories of the "Essays of Elia." Lamb declares in one of these that he will believe that true gentility exists when "in polite circles" the "same attentions" are paid to elderly people as to young. He would find that such attentions are paid to-day. Finally, he picks out from all his acquaintance for special commendation one Joseph Paice of Broad Street Hill, who, "though bred a Presbyterian, and brought up a merchant," says

Lamb quaintly, "was the finest gentleman of his time." The feature of Paice's conduct that thus earns Lamb's praise is the circumstance that, he behaved in precisely the same courteous manner to rich and poor alike.

Not everyone to-day can claim that distinction, but it is a sign of social advance that everyone is expected to do so.

STABILISATION OF CURRENCIES

Well-Known Expert's Views

London, April 27.
Discussing the stabilisation of currencies before the conference of the Chartered Institute of Secretaries, the well-known economist, Dr. W. H. Coates, Director of Imperial Chemical Industries, said that the time did not appear to be ripe for general stabilisation on the basis of a return to the international gold standard.

There had not been time for depreciation of currencies in non-gold countries, or for devaluation of the dollar, combined with the liberal credit policy that was being followed in many countries, to work out fully their effect on prices and costs.

Reparations and war debts still cast their shadows, he said. Surplus production and stocks were still evident in regard to the number of world staples. Co-operative restrictive agreements with, or without, Government support had not reached full development and a forest of international trade barriers still grew strongly.

In his opinion, the natural process of recovery from the depression must proceed some way further before the nations, as a whole, would be willing to admit that each had sufficient internal strength to take some of the risk, which must inevitably attend the greater freedom of international trade. A larger measure of home prosperity would in time form the basis of that greater confidence which was a condition precedent to the stabilisation of exchanges, Dr. Coates concluded.—British Wireless Service.

If Gossip We Must

By "Prudence"

The wedding of Miss Peggy Hornell and Major H. St. J. Thoyts must go down on the social record as one of the largest and prettiest weddings of the season.

St. John's Cathedral was crowded for the occasion, and everyone admired the beautiful floral decorations. Blue and pink larkspurs, and white Madonna lilies were the flowers chosen, and these colours were repeated in the dresses of the Bride and her Maids, while Michael Thoyts (a most adorable Little Boy Blue) acted as trainbearer.

The Bride looked very lovely and glamorous in her snow-white wedding dress and misty veil, and very gay and youthful in a charming "going-away" dress of larkspur-blue, with striped blue and white vest and sleeves, and a little blue cap pulled over her brown curls. The Bridesmaids were Miss Chester-Master, and Miss Lawford (who came down from Shanghai for the occasion) and both girls looked enchanting in dresses of larkspur-blue organdie. Instead of flowers they carried dainty muffs of pale pink organdie and wore plaited coronets of the same hue.

The Bride was given away by her uncle, Sir William Hornell, and Lieut. Col. E. de C. Boys acted as bestman.

H. E. Sir Thomas Southern, the Officer Administering the Government, and Lady Southern, were present at the ceremony and afterwards attended the reception in the Great Hall of the University. Lady Southern looked delightful in a very graceful dress of shaded blue and white chiffon, with a deep double flounce of white organdie and drooping cape-sleeves, worn with one of the wide Leghorn hats that are so much the fashion this Spring, in Paris.

Mrs. C. L. Sandes also wore a charming example of this new fashion with her clinging dress of ecru lace, while Mrs. Carrington Sykes chose one of olive-green, to contrast with her dress of clear ice-blue.

THE POPULAR COLOURS
Brown, blue, and green were the popular colours last Wednesday. I was very much struck by the charming dress of leaf-green crepe-de-chine worn with a little brown coat, a brown hat and gipsy scarf of green, chosen by Mrs. J. H. Little.—Mrs. Jupp had a narrow, brown coat with fluted sleeves over her dress of turquoise blue.

Miss Yvonne Shenton looked very sparkling in brown and white stripes, and a close fitting hat of brown. Miss Jean Macle was very debonair in a smart brown "swagger-coat" with a wide brimmed hat of the same colour. Mrs. D. J. Lewis looked very striking all in brown with just a glint of tangerine, and sleeves inset with deep coffee-coloured lace. Mrs. Forster also looked charming in brown and Mrs. Griffin wore a dress of brown-checked organdie with her sophisticated little white coat.

Mrs. R.K.M. Simpson looked most attractive in a dress of ecru-de-nil with a dainty star-shaped yoke of ecru shadow-lace. Mrs. Tottenham wore navy-blue and white and Mrs. Shellshar also looked very smart in white satin.

Mrs. G. D. R. Black had a fascinating ensemble of white and black and I heard someone asking who were "the Three Graces" when Miss Witchell and her two lovely sisters arrived... wearing organdie dresses of similar style, but each one a different colour with a wide brimmed hat to match. A very charming effect.

Mrs. Eldon Potter brought her two pretty daughters and looked awfully nice in rachel georgette. Miss Potter was one of the few people to choose red. Mrs. N. L. Smith was another, and Mrs. Wolf looked charming in brown and apricot yellow, while Mrs. Swann was very cool and fresh in reseda green.

Sir William Shenton had the important task of proposing the health of the Bride, and showers of confetti brought this gay and delightful function to a close.

PEAK SCHOOL SPORTS
The children of the Peak School held their much-postponed sports display, last Monday, morning in the lower garden of "Tandaragee," very kindly offered for the occasion by His Honour the Chief Justice and Mrs. MacGregor.

It was a pity that the teachers could not spare time to hold the sports in the afternoon, so that the fathers could be present, but in spite of the very early hour chosen, a great many mothers turned up, and arrived in time for the first race.

The sports were splendidly arranged and organized and much praise is due to the Headmistress (Mrs. Starke) and the Gym Mistress (Miss Rogers) for presenting such an interesting and well-planned display.

Several of the Peak School mistresses helped, as "starters" and Mrs. Martell, Mrs. Sanger, Miss Marion Wolf gave valuable assistance at the "Tapes" while Mrs. MacKichen undertook the important duties of "Race Secretary" and entered the winners of each event. Back Races, Potato Races, and a most amusing Train Race were sandwiched in with the more serious events; the high jump at the end was very interesting, and the little competitors got a lot of applause as they faced (and surmounted) the gradually rising bar!

Well-chosen prizes were awarded for each event, and the silver cup (awarded for the highest number of points) went to Alan MacKichen with twelve points while L. Womack (10 points) and D. Berg (9 points) were second and third respectively.

We noticed among the mothers present, Mrs. Swann, Mrs. Strellet, Mrs. Beal, Mrs. Emmet, Mrs. Tracy, Mrs. Forster, Mrs. Ralston, Mrs. Davidson, Mrs. Mills, Mrs. Young, Mrs. Brasier, Mrs. Langston, Mrs. Taylor and many others. The children all stood at attention while the Director of Education gave an address, but he very kindly realised that they were all hot and tired after their efforts, and therefore made it as short as possible, after which the prizes were presented by Mrs. Brawn.

Charming baskets of flowers were presented by the Headmistress of the Peak School to Mrs. MacGregor and Mrs. Brawn, and three rousing cheers from the children testified to the fact that there is nothing wrong with the lungs of the younger generation.

Isochrom Film—Yes, for what subjects?

For ultra-rapid snapshots, sports and Press subjects, because of the extreme speed of the film.

For landscapes by lakes or in mountains, where the amateur uses a yellow filter to get the clouds well rendered in the negative, the very great ortho quality of Isochrom Film makes it superior to all others.

For against-the-light effects, architectural and interior subjects, having violent contrasts of light and shade, Isochrom Film is invaluable because of its non-halation coating.

For portraits, groups and studies of children, Isochrom Film is preferred by amateurs because of its brilliant gradation.

There is no branch of amateur photography in which Agfa Isochrom Film does not yield magnificent result. The universal amateur film.

JAPANESE POLICY IN EAST ASIA

INCONSISTENT WITH NINE POWER TREATY

Singapore Base A Menace To Japan!

London, April 29. The Tokyo announcement, made ten days ago, is being increasingly recognised in Western capitals, says the Observer, as a serious departure from Japanese policy. "The Japanese explanation is friendly and in correct form, but is lacking in re-assuring substance."

Sir John Simon, in the House of Commons, skilfully contrived not to inflame emotion, yet suggested that disquiet had been caused. In effect Japan now claims exclusive influence over 400,000,000 Chinese people, despite seven other powers who signed the Nine-Power Treaty. She is inspired by expectation that she will further claim naval parity with America. On evidence of a Japanese newspaper, she even contemplates protesting against the Singapore naval base as "A menace" to Japan.

These are portentous things and a sign that the Japanese have no wisdom. Neither Washington nor London can, or will, ignore them. The immediate result has been a spurt on the part of Mr. Roosevelt in naval construction.

NINE-POWER TREATY
There is no doubt in London, says the Observer's diplomatic correspondent, that the spirit of what has been published is said to be that Tokyo raises the issue of the Nine-Power Treaty.

The opinion in London is that the Japanese claim to act alone on their own responsibility to keep peace in East Asia is inconsistent with provisions in the Treaty. As far as loans and armaments are concerned, it is recognised in London that Japan has as much right to be consulted as any of the other seven non-Chinese signatories before any controversial step is taken, but the British Government wholly rejects the Japanese claim to her "peculiar" position. Indeed, if rival claims to peculiar interests in China were to be contested Britain would obviously have the strongest claim on the ground that the capital on which China's economic financial life is founded is mostly British.—Reuter.

WILL NOT INTERFERE WITH OTHER POWERS

London, April 28. The Sunday Dispatch says that Sir John Simon in a statement, to the House of Commons to-morrow will show that Japan has now declared she does not wish to interfere with the rights of other powers in China and will not take up any position contrary to the Nine-Power Treaty.—Reuter.

MR. C. HULL TO STUDY SITUATION

Washington, April 28. Japan's "restatement" of her Asiatic policy in a milder form is welcomed by members of the State Department. Mr. C. Hull declined to discuss the Hirota statement, but said he is assembling all documents in the case with the view to make a complete study of the situation. He threw no light on the State Department's attitude and said that so far as he knew there had been no joint action with Britain. Mr. C. Hull is to-day lunching with Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Norman Davis for a discussion on the arms problems.—Reuter.

NO RECOGNITION OF MANCHUKUO

Berlin, April 28. The statement made by Mr. Yokoyama, at Geneva, attributing the willingness of generals in N. China to recognise the de facto state of affairs in Manchuria has evoked a statement from the Chinese Legation declaring the Chinese people are united against recognition, and in all matters of foreign policy Gen. Chiang Kai Shek is in full agreement with the National Government.—Reuter.

HIROTA'S NEW ATTITUDE

Tokyo, April 27. The Japanese Foreign Secretary, Mr. Koki Hirota, is now adopting the attitude that the Foreign Office "Hands off China" statement, made on April 17, is "officially non-existent." He stresses to diplomats that the Japanese policy is summed up in the remarks made by a Foreign Office spokesman on April 20, to the effect that Japan desires the unification and prosperity of China, but that it must be obtained by her own endeavours.

It is understood that written statements on these lines were handed to the British Ambassador, Sir Francis Lindley, and the American Ambassador, Mr. Joseph C. Grew, on Thursday evening.—Reuter.

GERMAN AIR DEFENCE LEAGUE

Celebrates Its First Birthday

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, April 29, 4.30 a.m.)

Berlin, April 28. The German Air Defence League celebrated its first birthday in Berlin on Sunday, with separate demonstrations in each of the twenty defence districts. In the course of twelve months, the existence of the new organisation has outgrown the infancy stage, the membership now numbering over half a million in Berlin alone. The main goal for next year's activity is to secure volunteer aid watchmen, home firemen, and red cross experts to every one of Berlin's 130,000 houses.—Transocean Kuo Min.

NEW AUSTRIAN CONSTITUTION

To Be Announced On May 1

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, April 29, 4.30 a.m.)

Vienna, April 28. The long awaited re-organisation of the Austrian Cabinet will not be announced until May 1, when the new Constitution and the Concordat also come into force, says a semi-official announcement made here on Saturday.

It is generally believed that Prince Starhemberg will enter the Cabinet as vice-Chancellor without portfolio. The present vice-Chancellor, Fey, is expected to become Minister of Security.

For the time being the rest of the Cabinet will remain as at present. President Miklas and Papal Nuntius are scheduled to sign the Concordat ceremoniously on Monday.—Transocean Kuo Min.

NEW GOVERNMENT POWERS

The official account of the new Constitution of the Austrian "Guided State" is given in the Press by Herr Drottoender. The Minister says the new Constitution shows that in case of failure of the proposed Federal Council Act on Government Bills, the Government is empowered to proclaim emergency martial law. The word "republic" has been dropped from the official title of the State and it believed laws against the Hapsburgs have been omitted from the new Constitution.—Reuter.

Berlin, April 28. The German chess champion, Bogoljubow rose to his old time form in the eighty-second move to win over the world master, Alekhine in the tenth match of the world title played at Ploz on Saturday. In the beginning of the play, after intermission with slight advantage in position, Bogoljubow managed to retain the lead, finally forcing the world master to abandon the effort after intricate end play with rooks. The score now stands 3-1 in favour of Alekhine, with six matches drawn.—Transocean Kuo Min.

DISARMAMENT PROSPECTS

France Blamed For Deadlock

Berlin, April 27. The French Government, at one blow, has destroyed the results of lengthy negotiations for making a prompt understanding possible, declared the German Foreign Minister Baron von Neurath in a speech note on Disarmament. The suggestion that Germany should continue to stand disarmed is a flagrant injustice, and a political impossibility, he said.

A defenceless Reich would ultimately lead to a big struggle for power in Europe and complete disorganisation of the whole continent. It was for other Governments to grasp the hand Germany had extended.—Reuter.

THE GERMAN POINT OF VIEW

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright))

Berlin, April 27. Addressing German Press representatives on Friday evening on the subject of disarmament, Von Neurath said "negotiations conducted for more than six months by the Powers chiefly concerned were suddenly broken off by France. Reproaches and attacks made against Germany in the French Note hardly seem to need any refutation. It is easy to recognise that the real reasons for the momentous decision of the French Government lie elsewhere than in the figures in the German Budget setting forth expenditure on defence. Isn't it astonishing that the Government which last year spent no less than 16 milliard of francs on defence should be alarmed at a neighbouring country which spent 39 milliard marks? Germany has carried out the minutest details of all obligations undertaken regarding disarmament. The counter-part of this, namely all round disarmament of other nations which was years ago over due, has not begun nor are there any signs that they will begin within a measurable space of time. The continuation of the state of affairs whereby Germany is one-sidedly disarmed amid nations armed to the teeth and unrestricted as regards future armaments would be a flagrant injustice and political impossibility. To judge the situation solely by fundamental legal principles one must answer the question, which side has right on its side in adhering to the thesis in its last note, or Germany should demand equality immediately and claim the right to be armed to the same extent as the most heavily armed States? We are still willing to come to an amicable understanding and have appointed a special delegate for disarmament questions, equipped with all powers to facilitate international negotiations. We are, however, aware of the serious difficulties, but our standpoint is legally and politically so unassailable that we can await further developments without misgivings."—Transocean Kuo Min.

AMAZING SPY STORY

Dutch Subjects Enticed To Germany

Amsterdam, April 27. An amazing story of a German lawyer and wife, alleged to be secret service agents, whose practice was to entice Dutch subjects across the frontier in order to get them arrested, is told in the Dutch newspaper, "Telegraaf," to-day.

The Journal declares that the pair used to approach Dutch citizens with a view to persuading them to take stocks to Berlin to sell them and smuggle the money back to Holland, contrary to the German laws in regard to the taking of money from the country.

A number of Dutchmen have already been arrested for this offence, thanks to information given by the lawyer and two others have already been sentenced to long terms of hard labour.

The latest victims of the lawyer are two Dutchmen and a Pole living in Holland, who were arrested the moment they arrived at a house, in Berlin to which the lawyer told them to go.

The house is said to belong to a high official in the German Ministry of Finance.

The Dutch authorities' efforts to get hold of the two alleged spies failed. The lawyer is said to have gone to England while his wife left for Paris.—Reuter.

TRANSFER CONFERENCE MEETS IN BERLIN

No Tangible Progress Made

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, April 29, 4.30 a.m.)

Berlin, April 28. The Transfer Conference met again at the Reichsbank on Saturday at 11 o'clock when the general situation was discussed, but without much tangible progress being made because the work of the two committees appointed on Friday has not yet finished. Their work consists chiefly in one case, in examining the statistical material put at the disposal of Foreign delegates by the Reichsbank, in particular the statistics referring to the Reichsbank's stock of foreign currencies and sources from which these come. The second committee is studying the operation of the currency control system and its effectiveness.

As soon as these committees have finished their work, the plenary session will be able to form concrete opinions. The committees are continuing their labours on Sunday, and the full conference meets again at the Reichsbank on Monday morning at 11.—Transocean Kuo Min.

SUB COMMITTEES APPOINTED

Berlin, April 27. The Transfer Conference between representatives of the lords and middle term creditors of German debts on one side and the Reichsbank on the other, met on Friday at 3 p.m. for the first time. Leon Fraser, President of the Bank of International Settlements at Basle was unanimously elected as chairman. Director Blessing of the Reichsbank was appointed secretary. After a preliminary exchange of ideas on general transfer, problems two sub-committees of a technical character were appointed and will begin work immediately. The conference holds its next meeting at 11 a.m. on Saturday. No prediction as to the possible duration of the conference is yet forthcoming.—Transocean Kuo Min.

INABILITY FLEA TO PAY DISREGARDED

Berlin, April 28. The French Ambassador to Berlin, following the lead of Sir Eric Phipps, the British Ambassador, has informed the German Government that France will take a grave view of the proposal to apply the transfer moratorium to the Dawes and Young loans. In other words, Great Britain and France expect the reparations payments to be continued despite the asseverations of the President of the Reichsbank Dr. H. Schacht, that Germany cannot any longer find the annual $23,000,000 necessary.

Simultaneously Germany's foreign creditors are assembled at the Reichsbank to discuss the transfer problem. Although the deliberations technically do not include the Dawes and Young bonds, it is not doubted that their decisions will automatically affect them.

The conference is divided into two sub-committees and will continue deliberations to-day. They appear determined to take a firm stand against a complete transfer moratorium on the Dawes and Young Loans.—Reuter.

CLOSE OF THE SAILING SEASON

SUCCESSFUL REGATTA AT THE YACHT CLUB

Mr. A. L. Shields Reviews The Season's Activities

A successful afternoon's sailing on Saturday proved a fitting close to the season at the Royal Hong Kong Yacht Club when a large number of members and friends attended to watch some extremely good racing, although sailing conditions were far from being ideal.

In the cruiser class Mrs. Beck brought "Norseman" across the line first, with Miss Owen Hughes in "Sealark," second. The "H" class went to Mrs. Thompson in "Colleen," closely followed by Mrs. Kemble in "Rola."

Mrs. Baker scored a comfortable victory in "Toynette" in the "I," "Y," and "G" class, with Mrs. Wren in "Zephyr," second. The final race ("A" class) went to Mrs. Griffin in "Wasp II," who held a good lead over Mrs. Murr in "Jan." Third place was taken by Mrs. Adams in "True Blue."

At the conclusion of the races, Mrs. A. L. Shields gave away the prizes, but before asking her to do so, the Commodore, Mr. A. L. Shields said:

"By studying the pamphlet giving the results of the Sailing Races, and the names of the prize-winners, you will realize that we have had a very busy sailing season, and when I tell you that the number of starters in the Sailing Races was nearly 1300, you will appreciate the work which is thrown on the officers, Committee, and particularly the Sailing Secretary."

"The outstanding feature of the Cruiser Class races, has been the success of the Typhoon Design of four tonners, and the outstanding boat in that class is 'Monsoon,' sailed by Mr. Duley. You will notice that other four tonners are well represented in the prize-list, and I imagine the Handicapping Committee will probably make some adjustments next year. In saying this, I am not in any way disparaging the class or the owners, as they are a hard-bitten lot, and push their boats through it will all the sail they carry, in the worst kind of weather."

"In the Handicap Class, 'Rola' has carried off most of the honours, and she is undoubtedly the fastest sailing craft on our Register to-day. 'In the 'I' and 'Y' Class, 'Allisa' won the Challenge Cup and the Championship, and was second in the Corinthian Races, and in the 'G' Class, 'Joan' and 'Zephyr' have been particularly noticeable. 'In the 'Anchor' Class, 'Jan' is again the outstanding boat, but 'True Blue,' 'Gull' and 'Artemis' were finding their true form towards the end of the Season. There are now thirteen boats in this class, and I hope to see some more keels laid this year."

The Services
The number of Subscribers continues to increase, and you will observe that a large number of yachts are owned by our good friends in the Navy and the Army. I wish to tell them again how much we value their support, and their keen interest in the activities of the Club."

"Our Sunday sailing matches with them are bright features in our programme, and we always have a real good run for our money. In the Service Teams, all ranks from Commodores to Midshipmen in the Navy, and from Colonels to junior Subalterns in the Army, are represented, and they sail as if his Noble Majesty himself, with a red-hot trident, is trying to establish an over-lap."

"A philosophical Frenchman remarked somewhere, 'Partir c'est mourir un peu,' and we are continually regretting the departure of our Service friends, but their successors keep filling the gaps. So long as our blue ensign, with the fearsome bearded wearing the Dundreary whiskers, flies over our Club, I can promise them a warm welcome."

Tribute To Secretary.

"Before presenting the prizes for the Season, and those for this afternoon's racing, I would like to refer particularly to the hard work put in by our Joint Honorary Secretary, Mr. R. J. Vernal, Mr. Vernal has occupied the position for seven years, and has done an enormous amount of work in that time. Apart from regular secretarial work, he has done a lot of designing in connection with club badges, trophies, etc., and I would particularly mention the decorations at the Annual Ball this year, which were the work of Mr. and Mrs. Vernal and Mr. and Mrs. K. S. Robertson. The Club shields were most artistic, and the whole scheme beautifully carried out."

"I have also to mention, especially, Mr. G. H. Gandy, the Honorary Sailing Secretary. I am sure he has had very little rest since the season started, and we all admire the cheerful way he turns up at meetings with all his 'home-work' up-to-date, and the businesslike way in which he sends out circulars, notices, and other

NINE MATCHES PLAYED: SEVERAL SURPRISES

Last Year's Junior Champions Beaten

Glorious weather favoured the official opening of the Hong Kong Lawn Bowls League on Saturday, when no fewer than nine matches were played in both the Senior and Junior Divisions. Several surprises were registered, the Civil Service Juniors causing a mild sensation by easily beating the Craigen-gower C.C., last year's champions, while the newly formed Craigen-gower "B" team surprised a very strong Kowloon Docks team by the comfortable margin of 13 shots.

The Kowloon Bowling Green Club, last year's champions in the Senior Division, started prominently by beating what was considered one of the strongest contenders this season, the Kowloon C.C., while the Police were surprisingly beaten by the Club de Recreio.

HOCKEY

Y.M.C.A. Draw With Macao

After a very rough passage, the European Y.M.C.A. hockey eleven held the undefeated Macao hockey Club to a draw of 1-1, after taking the lead in the first ten minutes of the game.

The encounter, which was played before a huge crowd of spectators, was packed full of thrills and was played at a terrific pace.

The Macao team's stick-work was a feature of the game while their speed often left the Y.M.C.A. defence spread-eagled.

Sommer who played at centre half for the Y.M.C.A. team played a wonderful game, and together with G. Fowler and R. Bates was responsible for a magnificent display of defensive tactics.

Fowler in goal for the "Y" played at the top of his form and together with Selk and Farmer kept his charge from falling on more than one occasion, the goal-keeper against the "Y" being an unfortunate incident in that Fowler slipped while attempting to save.

The Macao defence was superb and had it not been for the two home backs, the Y.M.C.A. would have walked away with the game.

The game opened at a very fast taking the lead in the first ten minutes. S. Fowler opened the scoring with a magnificent shot which had the Macao custodian beaten all the way.

The Macao centre forward equalised two minutes later as a result of a combined forward movement which left the "Y" defence temporarily paralysed.

In the second half the "Y" enjoyed most of the play and had it not been for the Macao defence, they would have emerged winners. The game was one of the best seen in Macao this season.

The referee, Lieut. da Costa (Macao) and Mr. Palmer (Y.M.C.A.) are to be congratulated on their excellent handling of the game.

Close Race For Honours

Saturday was more or less the closing of the League season. Six division I games were played, and South Wales Borderers and St. Joseph's now head the table with 35 points each. South Wales Borderers defeated the Club on the Club ground by three goals to one, while St. Joseph's F.C. defeated the Chinese Athletic by the only goal scored.

Club de Recreio surprised the R. Navy on the Kowloon F.C. ground winning by five goals to two, and Kowloon F.C. defeated the H.K. Police on the Railway ground by five goals to one.

South China, holding practically a reserve team, drew with the East Lancashire Regt. at Caroline Hill, while the Gunners surprised the Lincoln Regt. at Caroline Hill when they won by two clear goals.

The following were the results:—Kowloon F.C. 5, H.K. Police 1. Club de Recreio 5, Royal Navy 2. South Wales Borderers 3, Hong Kong Club 1.

CHINESE RESIDENT ROBBED

Incident In D'Aguilar Street

A Chinese residing at No. 25, D'Aguilar Street, 1st floor, reported to the Police on Saturday morning that sometime between 1 to 6 a.m. that morning, a sum of money and some jewellery valued altogether at about $25 were stolen from the house.

At present moment, details of the robbery are very meagre, but the Police are now giving the matter their close attention, and have informed all the pawn-brokers to note the above stolen articles. It is suspected that the article were stolen by an amah, who suddenly resigned from her master's house before the robbery was discovered.

OLYMPIC SELECTION CRITICISM

Str.—With reference to the correspondence which recently appeared in the Press criticising the Selection Committee of the Hong Kong Chinese Amateur Athletic Federation with regard to the choice of swimmers for the coming Olympic Games, I am directed by the Executive Committee to state as follows:—

The Federation cannot and does not claim immunity from criticism, but must express its regrets that criticism, not only of incompetence, but of unfairness and favouritism should be made against a representative sporting body recklessly and without any "bona fide" attempt to ascertain the true facts. Criticism of this kind must tend to create "bad blood" which all true sportsmen should try to prevent.

The Federation cannot possibly have the time to answer individual and anonymous correspondence in the Press, but I am directed to issue this official statement for the information of the general public, and so that the general public may be in the position of fairly judging the action of the Selection Committee.

As regards the allegation of the undue dominance of the S.C.A.A. on the councils of the Selection Committee, the following is a list of the members of the selection committee:

Messrs. Yeung Chu Nam (S.C.A.), Lo Chi King (C.A.A.), Ko Sik Wai (Hon. Secretary, Y.M.C.A.) and Lo Hap Fu (Assistant Hon. Secretary, S.C.A.A.) representing the Federation, and Messrs. Wong Yee Woo and Tsang Chi Kam representing Canton.

As regards the position of the Federation in regard to the choice of the swimmers, the Federation is affiliated to the National Chinese Amateur Athletic Federation. The local Federation obviously has no power on authority to choose a team to represent China. Some weeks ago, the National Federation officially directed the local Federation to stage various trials and to make recommendations for final selection. The National Federation has sent down official "times" for various events, and directed that our recommendations should be based upon the approximation to such official times.

As regards Miss Yeung Sau King, the National Federation announced to the local Federation that she had been chosen by the National Federation to represent China. The local Federation communicated with all local Chinese sporting clubs enclosing such official "times" and inviting them to send representatives for trials.

Trials were duly held, and the results were fully reported in the Press, English and Chinese. The results were cable up to the National Federation. As the times of all the three girls were more or less the same, the local Federation recommended that all three should be selected in addition to Miss Yeung Sau King already chosen by the National Federation. The swimmers, as selected, were so selected by the National Federation.

My Committee understands that the criticism was directed to "two events, namely the 400 metres and 1,500 metres. With regard to the 400 metres, Mr. Mak Wai Ming, alleged to have secured the first place in a heat, never participated in the race. As regards the 1,500 metres, there were only three entrants, namely Messrs. Kwok Chun Hang, Mak Wai Ming and Shek Kam-pui. The swimmers were asked to select the place for swimming that event, either at the South China's Pavilion or at the Y.M.C.A. Mr. Kwok did not want to take part and the remaining competitors signified their agreement to swim off the event at the Y.M.C.A. with the result that Mr. Mak Wai Ming finished the distance in the time of 23 minutes 50 seconds, comparing with the official "time" of 24 minutes.

The following were chosen by the National Federation together with the official and trial times. ## FIVE ATTEMPTS TO ENTER U.S.

Scot Who Wants To See His Wife

New York, April 27. A persistent Scot, who wants to see his wife and baby son in California, has just attempted to enter the United States for the fifth time.

He was deported a month ago to Glasgow after serving a six months' sentence in a penitentiary for entering the country illegally.

He stowed away on the s.s. Aquitania at Southampton and hid for five days in the steerage, without food or water. He was found on Wednesday in a state of complete collapse and placed in the ship's hospital.

He was handed over to the Ellis Island authorities when the liner arrived yesterday, and he is now faced with a term of imprisonment as well as deportation, as deportees are liable to imprisonment if they attempt to re-enter the country.—Reuter.

BRITISH COTTON GROWERS ASSOC.

Urge Greater Use Of Empire Product

London, April 27. An appeal to use Empire cotton is contained in the annual report of the British Cotton Growing Association, published to-day.

It states that it would be a great advantage to the Empire cause if spinners when purchasing cotton would inspect samples of Empire cotton of which there are ample supplies of various grades and staple suitable to almost every section of Lancashire.

The report mentions that the Uganda export of lint cotton totalled 294,829 bales last year, exceeding any previous export by over 87,000 bales.

The area increased by 24 per

World Cable News In Brief

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894.
Received, April 28, 4.30 a.m.)

Berlin, April 27. Roosevelt's travelling deputy, Washburn Child, received Press representatives here on Friday when he declared that "the creation of a new, economic peace would do more to prevent war than disarmament and treaty signing." Child emphasised that his present task consisted in travelling for the purpose of conducting personal investigations for the President of the United States and not to carry on negotiations or make diplomatic offers. Nevertheless the American diplomat made it clear that the new Washington policy that "only centralised planning could free the world from rapid decline, into a lower standard of life and permanent unemployment into which the general trend towards economic self-sufficiency is tending to drag society. In future, concluded Child, the most important task of diplomacy will be the weaving of new threads into a loom of world economy."—Transocean Kuo Min.

Prague, April 27. Barthou's conversations with members of the Czechoslovakian Government ended on Friday when a communique was issued stating that Barthou and Benesch, discussed all current questions of international politics including those dealing with the problems of Central Europe, the economic co-operation in the Danube States among one another and with rest of Europe, the Balkan Pact and its relationship with the policy of the Little Entente, the problems of the League of Nations and disarmament. On all questions the two foreign ministers confirmed complete unanimity of policy of the respective countries.—Transocean Kuo Min.

Saarbrücken, April 27. The Government Commission has declared that the Saarbrücken police officials Union be dissolved, two members of the Committee of management be suspended from office forthwith, and disciplinary examination begun with the object of effecting their dismissal.

The reason given for this sensational step is that the Saar police Union on April 19 demanded that the police officials appointed recently by the Government commission should be discharged again, this being considered as a threatening order of discipline. At the same time news has been received that the Government commission had informed principals of all high schools in the Saar territory, masters of all professional training schools and others that on May 1, there would be no public or church holiday in the Saar territory, so that on that day usual tuition will be given.

The Government Commission forbids all exceptional leave to teachers and pupils on that day.—Transocean Kuo Min.

Moscow, Apr. 27. The heroic leader of the Chelyuskin expedition, Professor Schmidt, rushed by rescuing airmen to an Alaskan hospital a fortnight ago where he was treated for an attack of pleurisy arrived at Fairbanks on Friday where competent physicians declared him out of danger. After several days stay, Schmidt will resume his journey round the world to Russia, the first stage being by air and rail across the United States to New York.—Transocean Kuo Min.

Paris, Apr. 27. Before the committee of investigation into the Stavisky scandal on Friday, the ex-Minister of Justice, Senator Renoult confessed to having accepted from Stavisky a cheque for 50,000 Francs in 1928 for which he intervened both with the Attorney General and inquiring magistrate to obtain the withdrawal from an arrest warrant against Stavisky. Although Renoult's intervention was useless, the Radical-Socialist leader's moral legal position was rendered almost hopeless by the confession since Renoult could never be employed by Stavisky as Attorney. It is expected that Renoult's parliamentary immunity will be suspended immediately so that a prosecution may begin.—Transocean Kuo Min.

Nanking, April 27. Consideration broke out among Chinese students of North China on Friday when the Minister of Education issued a decree strictly prohibiting smoking.—Transocean Kuo Min.

NATIONAL GOVERNMENT ACHIEVEMENTS

OPTIMISTIC VIEWS EXPRESSED
BY MR. RUNCIMAN

£40,000,000 Saved By Conversion Loan

London, April 28.

The President of the Board of Trade, Mr. W. Runciman, expressed optimistic views on National recovery in a speech at Cardiff, last night. He claimed for the National Government a measure of credit for seventeen achievements. These were balancing of the Budget and remitting of the Income-tax. Repayment of millions on unemployment insurance fund. Restoration of economy cuts to unemployed. Saving of about £40,000,000 in annual interest charges by conversion operations. Helping industrial organisation and local authorities by cheapening money. Money was now available at a lower rate than for two generations. Trade agreements that had lowered tariffs in foreign markets. He had signed nine agreements, and seven more were being negotiated. Nearly 700,000 more people were at work and employed in many trades which had more work to do than a year or two ago. A steady rise in industrial securities and dividends was re-appearing. Improvement in iron and steel trade. Slight improvement in coal, mainly in the North. Passing of the act stimulating production of motor spirit from coal and other indigenous products. Legislation helping agriculture and bold experiments in organised marketing. Passing of the greatest town and country planning act in history. More done towards housing than any previous Government had achieved. Opening of the greatest crusade against slums ever attempted in any country. The great piece of constructive social reform, namely, the Unemployment Insurance Bill which is about to be made law.

Referring to shipping, he said, if the Government were going to assist, their help should be not only for ship-owners but for officers and crews.—British Wireless.

U.S. MARINE COMMANDER Arrives In Shanghai

Brig-Gen. Frederick L. Bradman, of the United States Marine Corps, accompanied by Mrs. Bradman and their two children, Master John and Miss Mary Jo Bradman, arrived in Shanghai last week on board the Dollar Line s.s. President Polk.

The general was met at the Dollar Wharf by Col. J. C. Beaumont and officers of the 4th Regiment U. S. M. and the party landed at the Customs Jetty just before midnight. Owing to the lateness of the hour no band of honour was on hand to greet the General and the party drove off informally in cars which had been brought to receive them.

Gen. and Mrs. Bradman and their family proceeded to the Cathay Mansions which will be their home in Shanghai temporarily. Although it is known that the General will spend the next two years in this part of the world, no specific details of his duties here have as yet been disclosed.

A "North China Daily News" representative was informed, however, that there will be a conference with Admiral S. B. Upham C-in-C of the U.S. Asiatic Fleet, at which time Gen. Bradman's duties will be fully outlined. An announcement in this regard will be issued following the conference.

The general has been in command of the Marine Barracks, Naval Operating Base, San Diego, California from December 7, 1931, until his present orders brought him to China.

Madrid, April 27. The Radical, Ricardo Samper was entrusted on Friday by President Zamora with the task of constructing a new Spanish Cabinet. Samper who held both portfolios for posts and Commerce in the last Cabinet, announced that he would attempt to form a Republican Government dependent on the aid of the Radical party. Samper's success is generally doubted since such a Cabinet would be not only a minority Government but inevitably almost the exact reproduction of the late Lerroux Ministry.—Transocean Kuo Min.

ECONOMIC RECONSTRUCTION

Advice To Bavarian
Industrialists

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894.
Received, April 29, 4.30 a.m.)

Munich, April 28. Speaking on Saturday to Bavarian industrialists on the principles of economic reconstruction throughout the Reich, the Minister for Economics, Herr Schmitt said: "We can only pay for raw materials with manufactured goods and meet interest on foreign loans out of export surplus. Thus our high quality industrial production finds itself faced with the task of trying every possible way by creating out of German products full value substitutes for raw materials hitherto imported.

In this direction, thanks to potentialities opened up by technical advancements, I see untold possibilities. I am certain failing reasonable, and for us tolerable agreements, with raw material supply countries Germany will be able to, when once her change in formation is completed, to forego in many directions the use of foreign materials for which she would otherwise be an increasing consumer."—Transocean Kuo Min.

LARGER ARMED FORCES TO GUARANTEE PEACE

KING EMMANUEL'S SPEECH TO CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES

Rome, April 27.

Italy wants the longest possible period of peace, but the greatest guarantee for peace is the efficiency of the Italian armed forces, declared His Majesty King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, to-day, when inaugurating what is probably the last Chamber of Deputies, amid traditional and gorgeous ceremonial, surrounded by members of the Royal Family.

He declared that the Government was striving to augment the efficiency of the forces, which depends on the cadres, materials and unity of command.

Efforts must be made, he said, to improve the physique of the Italian youth before military training in order to raise the level of soldierly efficiency.

War material must be renewed and overhauled, while unity of command was fundamental.

He declared that Italy led the way in a new form of Government which would probably lead to changes of constitutions in other countries.

The King referred to the impending changes in the Italian constitution for better discipline of the country's economic forces.

Italy was anxious to help in the solution of urgent European and world problems and was resolved to uphold good relations with the Vatican.

He stressed the need of balancing the Budget and affirmed the Government's intention to adhere to the gold standard.

While awaiting the King's arrival, the Deputies sang Fascist songs. All present, including Signor Mussolini and the Senators, were attired in black skirts, although the King was in the full uniform of a Field Marshal.

Bursts of enthusiastic cheering greeted the King's references to the changes in constitution and the re-organisation of the armed forces.—Reuter.

MARKET FIRM

But Investors Hesitant

A slightly better tone prevailed during the week under review chiefly due to professional support, but the volume of business transacted was not on a large scale, the main feature being the improved demand for investment issues; such as Telephones, Hong Kong Trams, Hong Kong Electric, and Hong Kong Lands. In the investment section, Telephones (old) had a sharp recovery and were done up to $24. Hong Kong Electric advanced to a buying rate of 72½ after business at this figure. Hong Kong Lands after dropping to $59 rallied to $80 buyers. Hong Kong Trams improved from $20.80 to $20.90. Star Ferries continued in demand at $88. Dairy Farms were better with transactions done at $27. On the other hand, Wharves suffered a set-back and were dealt in at $100. Among the minor issues, Hotels attracted attention, having been done at $5.80/8.05. China Lights were firmer with enquiries at $9.90 at the close. Cements were wanted at $2.30 and Provident (old) at $1.85. Owing to a substantial drop in exchange, Hong Kong Banks strengthened a little with enquiries at $1.85 and Unions at $815. The tone of the market at the close is firm but unfortunately the Chinese element for the time being are still adopting a "wait and see" policy consequently business remains somewhat restricted.

Hongkong Banks $1.85/50
Canton Insurances $320.
Union Insurances $595.

THE EXCHANGE MARKET

MESSRS. ROZA BROS. REPORT

Saturday, April 28.
Silver prices remained unchanged in London yesterday, American sales were met by purchases on account of China and India. The tone closed with firm indications on American buying inquiries at a little over quotations. The price in New York was higher at 43.55 and the tone steady.

In New York the cross-rate opened at 5.13 1/2 improving to the closing rate of 5.14 1/2.
Following the slightly higher opening quotations in Shanghai, our local rate also opened firmer. Business was done for May to a moderate extent but apparently very little was done for deliveries beyond that month. Chinese speculators bought at the opening but subsequently turned sellers offering rates beyond those obtaining in the Inter-Bank market.

Opened with sellers at 1/5 1/2 with doubtful buyers at 1/5 3/32 but the rate was accepted leading to business at 1/5 3/16, 1/5 1/2, 1/5 1/4 and 1/5 9/32 for May. June and July deliveries were not wanted despite the attractive rates offered. July delivery was on offer at one time at 1/5 5/16 on a May market closed with sellers at 1/5 1/2 for first half May, possible sellers at 1/5 9/32 for the second half May, sellers for first half June at 1/5 9/32, buyers at 1/32 higher.

U.S. Dollars
Open with a quotation of 36 13/16 sellers, 36 15/16 buyers with a probability of buyers accepting 36 1/2 but the buying rates were subsequently put up with Sterling and business did not result except at 37 and 37 1/16. The last rate was probably obtainable at the close with buyers at 37 1/2.

SHANGHAI MARKET COMMENT

Somewhat more interest was noticeable on the Shanghai Stock Exchange last Tuesday, but rates have not shown signs of improvement. There were only a few issues which succeeded in attracting attention on the next day. Among those were Explorations following the declaration of dividend of eight per cent. Interest on Thursday was chiefly centered in the rubber section, offerings being absorbed at full rates. The market closed firm with the total business amounting to 140,000 shares. The rest of the market remained dull. There was no change registered in the general market situation during Friday's market. A little interest was shown in Explorations; four thousand shares were placed at 4.90 April, closing with buyers offering 4.85 and sellers asking 4.95 for this settlement.

Quoted at 120 at the opening but a better rate was obtainable.
Shanghai Dollars
111 1/2 to 111 5/16.

The tone was steady to strong in Shanghai. Sterling and Dollars opened at 1/3 7/16 and 33 3/16 respectively rising to 1/3 9/16 and 33 5/16 with business at 1/3 9/16 and 33 5/16. A late wire placed the market a little lower, sellers at 1/3 9/16 and 33 5/16 with buyers at 1/3 9/16 and 33 5/16.

There were buyers in the market for Chinese Engineering and Mining for April at 17.50 and 17.50 for May. Lack of activity continued to feature the general list on Saturday. The only section of the list showing vigor was the rubber group which was very strong on bullish restriction news, and advancing raw commodity markets in London, New York and Singapore. Monday's market was characterized by the squaring off of accounts for the April settlement. Rubber shares experienced another advance, with the market closing strong. Otherwise, business was sluggish; for Shanghai Lands, 24.50 April was offered, at which price 1,000 shares were booked.

During the week ending April 21 all issues suffered fractional losses on the Chinese Government Bond Market as compared with the closing quotations of the preceding week. From Tuesday until the end of the week the market was slowly loading ground. On Wednesday fluctuations were only fractional, leaving prices practically unchanged. Thursday witnessed rather heavy selling and at the end of the day considerable drops occurred. The market continued its weakness during the following two days, conveying the impression to the onlookers that further lower prices might be expected. Maximum fluctuations were recorded by 20 year Customs, while Salt Revenue showed the greatest turnover.

The A. O. F. Corp. has received the following report from their New York correspondents, E. A. Pierce & Co. Selling today was active enough to warrant the opinion that potential buyers should await developments. Usually, Saturday's markets give very little information, but, in view of the relative heaviness prevailing for the past week, today's action might possibly carry some significance.

Wheat: Sensational reports of dry weather caused an early advance, but prices eased in sympathy with stocks and possibilities of scattered showers over the week-end. The market showed strength at the close.

Cotton: With limited offerings, prices advanced rather easily
